The Catholic Church does not forbid Catholics from marrying people who are not Catholic. It has been the practice of the Church to marry non-Catholics and Catholics for quite some time. Barbara said... I will be teaching art for ages 3 to 6 in a catholic school and I am at a total loss as to what to start with and how to continue the year my principal said that every lesson has to be based on the catholic faith last year i had some lessons that coincided with the holidays and the rest were cultural lessons from around the world.
