This captures an intuitive property of continuous functions: given f continuous on $[1, 2]$ with the known values $f(1) = 3$ and $f(2) = 5$. Then the graph of $y = f(x)$ must pass through the horizontal line $y = 4$ while x moves from 1 to 2. At the first time, I don't know what is "dreadlocks", then I google by imagine and I realized that is an interesting hair style. I don't know how they can make it, it looks heavy and difficult to comb.
