The Irish Setter is a rowdy and rollicking redhead with energy to spare. At his best, he is sweet and trainable, but he is sometimes stubborn. Expect him to retain his puppy-like vigor until he is at least three years old. The Irish Setter is an active, aristocratic bird dog, rich red in color, substantial yet elegant in build. Standing over two feet tall at the shoulder, the dog has a straight, fine, glossy coat ... The Irish Setter is a relatively healthy dog breed. As with any dog breed, there are some potential breed-specific health conditions to be aware of including hip dysplasia, osteosarcoma, celiac disease, bloat, hypothyroidism, Von Willebrand's disease, and progressive retinal atrophy.
